

From: John Schofield <johnschofield@ntlworld.com>
Sent: 18 April 2018 22:04
To: 'Laytime Doctors | London'
Subject: RE: hello

7 am the next day.

John

From: Laytime Doctors | London [<mailto:laytime@laytimedoctors.com>]
Sent: 18 April 2018 17:27
To: 'John Schofield'
Subject: hello

Dear Mr. Schofield,
Many thanks your mail.

Your Book is an inspiration and I frequently refer to it for guidance.

It would be highly appreciated if you can resolve a small query of mine.

The rider clause reads as follows:

//

Six (6) hours' notice of readiness at load and dischargeport(s) to be given by Master to shippers/receivers as soon as the vessel has arrived and is in every respect ready to load or discharge the cargo(es). Laytime to commence at 7:00 AM or upon expiry of 6 hours' notice which occurs later.

//

The ship arrives at discharge port at 11 AM on 11th June and tenders NOR at 11 am. Six hours notice expires at 1700 Hrs on 11th June.

My query : Going by the natural meaning of the words, will laytime start on expiry of six hours notice at 1700 Hrs on 11th June or it will start from 7 am the next day of 12th June.

Thanks 'n' Regards

L A Y T I M E D O C T O R S | L O N D O N

Om Namah Shivay | Om Kreem Kalikayai Namah
Haray Krsna Haray Krsna Krsna Krsna Haray Haray |

From: John Schofield [<mailto:johnschofield@ntlworld.com>]
Sent: 18 April 2018 12:05
To: 'Laytime Doctors | London' <laytime@laytimedoctors.com>
Subject: RE:

Good luck with your new enterprise.

John Schofield

From: Laytime Doctors | London [<mailto:laytime@laytimedoctors.com>]

Sent: 17 April 2018 11:45

To: johnschofield@ntlworld.com

Subject:

Thanks 'n' Regards

L A Y T I M E D O C T O R S | L O N D O N

Om Namah Shivay | Om Kreem Kalikayai Namah
Haray Krsna Haray Krsna Krsna Krsna Haray Haray |

Virus-free. www.avg.com